Description

Situated in the heart of Datchet and set just 100 yards from the Thames riverfront, this attractive period building is nestled within a secluded courtyard, tucked behind a 'coaching arch'. The principle building is a mews-style office arranged in a series of cellular spaces that lend particularly well to studio work, personal offices, and small event/meeting rooms. Kitchen and W/C facilities are also present. Above the 'coaching arch' to the front of the premise sits a well-equipped self-contained annex.

Ideally suited to a range of Class E uses, the property lends itself well for creative and lifestyle occupiers such as architects, designers and artists. The private courtyard also presents an excellent opportunity for coffee shop businesses with complementary uses such as yoga, Pilates or a holistic wellness studio.

Location

Datchet is a picturesque riverside village offering a delightful blend of traditional English countryside and modern amenities. Datchet Railway Station provides regular services to London Waterloo, and with easy access to both the M4 and M25 motorways nearby, this charming village has become a sought after location for those seeking a retreat from city life while still benefiting from easy access to London.
