Description

This former warehouse space offers superb open plan floors, featuring excellent floor to ceiling height of 3.8m, exposed brickwork (in-part), three phase power supply, a tea point, feature footbridge at ground floor level and a host of character features throughout. The accommodation has the benefit of being completely self-contained, good branding opportunities, with several entrances and loading facility. The property is suited to a range of occupiers and users, and the floor plates are very adaptable to suit occupiers' requirements.

Location

The property occupies a distinctive island site just behind Old Street, positioned near its intersections with Baltic Street East and Memel Street. This strategic location places it at the heart of a vibrant and well-established commercial and social district, characterised by a diverse mix of independent restaurants, popular bars, and artisan coffee shops, all contributing to a lively day-to-evening atmosphere.

The property benefits from excellent transport links. Barbican station (served by the Circle, Hammersmith & City, and Metropolitan lines), Old Street station (Northern line), and Farringdon station (Elizabeth line, Thameslink, and Underground services) are all within a short walking distance.
