Location

The property is located on Cowley Road within Blyth Riverside Business Park. Blyth is a coastal town in Northumberland in North East England situated approximately 30 miles North East of Newcastle upon Tyne.

Blyth holds strategic importance due to several key factors including its port facilities at the Port of Blyth, specialising in offshore energy, project cargo, container handling and dry bulk along with its energy sector whereby Blyth is becoming a hub for clean energy and tech innovation including offshore wind and research.

Blyth has good road links via the A189 Spine Road and A1(M) with improvements to rail links having recently taken place culminating in the opening of the new Northumberland passenger line. Blyth Bebside Station is due to open later in 2025.

Description

The property comprises a semi-detached brick built structure with steel portal frame and cladding to the elevations along with a pitched felt roof with glass skylights. There is one external roller shutter door which measures 3.99m wide by 3.67m high along with further double door access to the warehouse with an office and amenity block to the front of the property which extends over ground and first floors. This space is carpeted and includes suspended ceilings with fluorescent tube lighting. To the rear of the first floor offices there is also a first floor storage mezzanine with additional stairway access from the warehouse. There is an extensive yard to the southern elevation of the property laid with tarmac surface and fenced with metal palisade fencing with double gates which provide access to Cowley Road.

Measured electronically, this yard space extends to circa 0.16 acres.
